Letter To Readers

Our major auction in June was a tremendous success. We want to sincerely thank all of our loyal bidders and consignors for making this possible. We are currently accepting consignments for our next major auction, the consignment deadline is August 12.

Our current auction is our unique to the industry affordable autograph and memorabilia-only auction. This auction features items that almost all have a retail value of $500 or less, and low minimum bids.

Day one of the auction is all about baseball autographs. We open with a nice selection of signed cards, including many quality partial vintage signed Topps lots from 1958-1971. There are two really nice 1953 & 1954 Billy Martin signed Topps cards and a rare vintage signed 1964 Topps Giant Hank Aaron among much more.

We have a very interesting collection of signed vintage All Star and World Series tickets that follow. Signed 8x10 photos include a 1954 Giants, 2016 Yankees, a vintage Hank Greenberg, several interesting single and multi-signed Mickey Mantle photos and much more. There is a solid run of signed Yellow HOF Plaques with several scarcities and key HOFers. 3x5 collectors will see some tougher signatures and quality HOFers.

Check collectors will see a very nice Ty Cobb signed check, and we have some original Yankee player contracts from the late 1920s and early 1930s. There are some interesting signed equipment lots, including Derek Jeter and Mike Trout signed batting helmets, a Derek Jeter 2014 All Star Game jersey and a wide variety of signed large prints and oversized items.

Single signed baseballs close out the first day of the auction. There are hundreds to choose from, with a wide variety of HOFers, deceased players, retired stars and a wonderful collection of broadcaster signed baseballs. There are both scarce balls here and classic HOFers, the condition overall is quite strong.

Day two of the auction starts with multi-signed baseballs. There is an interesting late 1970s baseball with George Steinbrenner, George Brett and Elston Howard and a 1996 Veterans Committee signed baseball with Ted Williams. Team balls range from 1938 – 2002 with some collector grade Yankee Championship balls, a 1962 Mets with a real Stengel and Hodges, several higher grade team balls from the the 1950s and 1960s, a few All Star balls and other quality team balls.

Bat collectors will see a nice run of HOFer single signed bats with many Cooperstown models; there are also several interesting vintage store and game bats. Basketball collectors will see some nice Bird/Magic signed items, a vintage Bill Russell signed Celtic program and other nice items.

Football is a major part of this auction. We have our largest offering ever of the always popular signed Goal Line cards, these are spread out over 150 different lots! Other football items include signed helmets, footballs, photos, cards, programs and more.

Baseball memorabilia closes out the auction. Among the strongest offerings we have had in one of these auctions, it starts with a quality pub run. Tickets come next, including two rare pre-1920 tickets and two 1939 HOF All Star Game tickets.

We have our largest offering ever of Mickey Mantle vintage games, toys and paper items. There is a nice selection of vintage baseball and football pennants as well. We conclude the auction with a strong run of vintage baseball and football bobbin head dolls, including keys Mantle, Maris and Mays.

Football Memorabilia

1136 Pair of late 19th century cabinet styles images 25
We believe that these were removed from a Victorian style photograph album. The images are of medium quality, with somewhat faded contrast as is fairly typical. The uniform style with quilted pants and high top socks leads us to believe that these images are of young football players.
Each measures approximate 4 x 5.5, one has a chip at the lower right corner.

Tickets

1255 Rare Undated 1904-1912 Washington Senators
Ticket 90

Thomas Noyes was an owner of the Washington Senators from 1904-1912. A rare ticket, we could find only one public sale for anything like this at all. There is general wear and some odd remnants of possible writing by the left edge. The back is clean, the edges look good and this retains its original color. The back has an advertisement for a Sanders & Stayman piano company in Washington, D.C. Possibly a significant ticket, who wants to do some ticket detective work?

1256 1914 Yankees Home Game 70 75

Early Yankee stub, the condition is clean. We sent this to PSA and they did not have enough info to slab it, so it is being sold strictly as-is. Clearly an original ticket, we believe this is from 1914 based on the style of the ticket and the Yankee team President. 1914 is written on the back in pencil, with an advertisement for a Midland Beach Seaside Resort.

1257 1915 Yankees Home Game 71 75

Early Yankee stub, the condition is clean. We sent this to PSA and they did not have enough info to slab it, so it is being sold strictly as-is. Clearly an original ticket, we believe this is from 1915 based on the style of the ticket and the reverse advertisement for the Pell Tree Inn which opened in 1915 (it of course if possible the ticket could be from a later year). The colorful ticket has some condition issues on the back but is quite crisp, clean and bright overall. This could potentially be from a special game, this was game number 71.

1258 1923 Yankees/Tigers - Babe Ruth HR Game 120
Very bright and attractive full stub, this is completely fresh to the hobby. The edges are crisp, this displays very well. 22 is written on the back in pencil. Yankee tickets from this era are scarce and desirable, especially for a Babe Ruth home run game! Nice ticket.

1259 1926 Yankees Home Game 67 60
Desirable 1920s Yankee stub, the condition is clean. We sent this to PSA and they did not have enough info to slab it, so it is being sold strictly as-is. Clearly an original ticket, we believe this is from 1926 but we are not 100% sure. The admission price for this bleacher ticket was 55 cents including tax. This is a full stub with one subtle wrinkle. 9/18/27 is written on the back, which was a Babe Ruth home run game (#54) but we think it is more likely the ticket is from 1926. Who wants to do some interesting ticket detective work?

1260 1939 HOF All Star Game Ticket VG 50
Colorful ticket has no creases, there is wear at one spot on the back. Bright and clean, this displays very well.

1261 1939 HOF All Star Game Ticket VG 50
Desirable ticket from a truly historic event, this has a clean look. Creasing is present, but it does not crack the paper. The color is good, the back is clean, the edges show only very light wear. These have sold for $400 each over the years.

 Nice lot, offered are three colorful full stubs from games 3-5 of the 1969 World Series. These were the three games played at Shea Stadium. The tickets have neat notations about each game in ink and display very well, they are ideal for framing. Also included is a very uncommon press program from the 1969 World Series.

- 1271 1971 All Star Game Full Ticket PSA 5..... 60

- 1272 1973 Full World Series Game 1-7 Set! Ex+ 75
 Bright run of tickets, these have uniformly bright color and excellent gloss. These can have tiny wrinkles or slight wear, the game 7 ticket appears to be the sharpest (possibly Near Mint), the game 3 the weakest at Good. These otherwise have uniformly excellent eye appeal, with no back issues and are almost begging to be put together in the right framed display. Runs like this are very hard to find (please note front and back scans on our web site).

Baseball Memorabilia: General

- 1276 1869 Harper's Full Issue w/1869 Red Stockings Print 50
 Full issue from July 3, 1869, this one is special as it has the desirable half-page print of the 1869 Cincinnati Red Stockings, the first professional baseball team. The issue has closed tears and typical wear and displays well (with note to tape on the cover), the Reds print is quite clean. These seem so undervalued in today's market and this is the 150th anniversary of this team.

1281 1906 Cubs Large Format Team Postcard 50

1282 1908 Postcard The Oval Worcester, MA
Poor-Fair... 8
Possibly rare, this is a mailed postcard from 1908 that shows a view of a baseball game played in Worcester, Massachusetts circa 1908. Chipping and two pinholes keep the grade low, but this does offer good color and image quality.

1283 1909 Baseballitis Card Game in Original Box 75
Very uncommon smaller size (4 x 5.5) baseball game, the original rule pages come in the box, along with 54 higher grade playing cards. These have sold for as high as $300 over the years.

Loaded with big names, images include Joe Jackson, Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk and Eddie Cicotte. The Black Sox team image mentions the scandal. Clean overall, with typical condition issues for newspaper items from this era.

Collection of vintage games in boxes, condition varies, we did not check anything for completeness. Content is as follows: World Series Parlor Baseball Game, Jim Prentice Electric Baseball, Milwaukee Braves Desk Bank in original packaging, Bob Feller Big League Baseball, 1952 Jacmar

Electric Baseball, Milton Bradley Little League Baseball, Roger Maris & Carl Yastrzemski Action Baseball, Tom Hamilton football game, Hopalong Cassidy puzzle and Groucho Marx TV Quiz. 1289 1920 Great American Baseball Tin Game 15

1290 1923 Original Yankee Stadium Seatback Tag 50
Neat item, this is a 5 x 1.5 inch metal seat number. This is form the original 1923 Yankee Stadium seats, and must have become available during a renovation much later. This has foxing but retains a nice antique feel. These are quite scarce, we could only find one other public sale. This is a great item to pair with a vintage Yankee Stadium seat or to add to any 1920s-1940s Yankee collection.

Baseball Memorabilia
